The Play Directed by Gordon Prest

The action of the play passes in the garden of a large country house.

ABOUT THE PLAY An unlikely assortment of party guests are drawn together at a garden party. Sid and Edie arrive, apparently as gate-crashers, and from the outset are obviously not of this group. The twist in the tale, despite clues showered during the performance, should come as a surprise to the audience.

ABOUT THE PLAYERS Off Centre Theatre was formed in 1986 and since then has presented an average of three productions a year. In 1987 many of Off Centre's members were involved in both acting and technical roles in BORDERTOWN, a Community Play celebrating the 500th anniversary of the birth of Henry V at Monmouth. In 1989 the 150th anniversary of the trial at Monmouth Assizes of John Frost and other leading Chartists was marked by a re-enactment of parts of trial and this production and a forthcoming musical play based on Alexander Cordell's RAPE OF THE FAIR COUNTRY have involved members of Off Centre Theatre.
